Nazi Reports Say German Crew Is In Charge

British Fleet May Intercept City Of Flint

Seized American Freighter Off On Another Chapter In Complicated Story

BERLIN HINTS AT CONVOY OF U-BOATS

Russia Speeds Action To Get Problem Of Ship Out Of Her Territory

(International News Service)

Somewhere through the chill waters of the Arctic Ocean today steamed the American freighter City of Flint, weaving amid the icebergs another chapter in one of the most dramatic and complicated sagas of the war.

Released by the Russians, and apparently still in the hands of a German prize crew, the City of Flint is believed headed for yet another perilous episode, for German sources openly proclaimed their intention of taking her into a Reich harbor.

Convoy Of U-Boats?

Berlin authorities hinted that the American vessel would be picked up at sea by a convoy of U-boats, and added that the submarine commanders would be "only too glad" if British warships attempted to intercept the merchantman as she ran the blockade into the North Sea.

While both Germany and Russia defended their actions, on the ground that international law was

Senate Embargo Vote May Come Late Today

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—Barring a major upset, the senate late today will vote overwhelmingly to abandon the four-year-old arms embargo of this country's neutrality law for a cash-and-carry measure opening the rich war markets of Europe to American industry.

The vote will give President Roosevelt a decisive victory in the senate over a well-knit partisan minority of "isolationists", who have tenaciously battled New Deal foreign policies for two years.

The senate convened at 11 a. m. before packed galleries and with house members lining the walls for the windup of the long senate fight over neutrality legislation. Powerful administration forces resumed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Roosevelt's flat assertion that there is not "the remotest possibility" of sending another American expeditionary force to European battlefields held the country's attention today.

Timed shortly before the administration's neutrality bill comes to a vote in the senate, Mr. Roosevelt's renewed pledge that the United States will not get involved in war was calculated to rally wavering legislators in favor of the measure.

The White House was confident of a 2-to-1 success in the senate today but house leaders in the past week have reported privately that the vote in that body will be close next week.

Therefore, particular significance was attached to the president's nationwide broadcast last night to the

Shock Troops Near Cologne Paris Learns

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Seasoned shock troops of the Reich armies, experienced in modern warfare through the Polish "Blitzkreig," have been stationed in the front lines north of Cologne, according to information received today by the French Intelligence Service.

Extreme importance was attached to the disposition of these forces by the Intelligence officials.

Location of shock troops and mechanized forces, east of the Dutch, Belgian, and Luxembourg borders, indicated a German attack might be launched from the right wing of the west wall.

However, it was insisted here that the strength of the German army of some 1,500,000 men along the 650-mile front is such that an offensive could be started at any point from Switzerland to the North sea.

French Ready On West Front

Final Preparations For Any German Offensive Have Been Made

LOCAL ACTIVITY ALONG FRONT

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 27 — Still fearing a German drive over the difficult terrain of the sodden and chill Western front, French military authorities today ordered that final preparations for resistance be completed speedily.

French communique No. 107 announced that "feeler" operations by patrols continued to maintain a high point of sensitivity. The bulletin said:

"There was local activity by reconnaissance elements during the night."

French survey sorties, which frequently resulted in hand-to-hand clashes, showed that the German army is massed in readiness to launch an offensive at any time the weather permits use of its mechanized forces.

Artillery fire on either side is the invariable answer to advances by reconnoitering patrols, and this constant activity is evident that neither force is willing to let the other side change its lines materially.

Remove Bodies Of 50 Germans From Wrecked Submarine

LONDON, Oct. 27.—More than 50 dead Germans have been taken off the wreck of a U-boat found on treacherous Goodwin sands near Deal, it was understood today.

Whether the submarine was a victim of this notorious graveyard of ships, or whether she was disabled by British war vessels, was a mystery.

However, gunfire was heard off Deal Wednesday, but the reason for the blasts was uncertain due to a heavy mist. Late yesterday Deal boatmen sighted part of the U-boat's conning tower protruding above the water, and salvage vessels and divers went to work at once.

Encyclical Is Issued By Pope

Communism, Totalitarianism, Etc., Are Denounced By Pope Pius XII

RETURN TO GOD IS PLEA TO WORLD

By CECIL R. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Oct. 27.—In a ringing denunciation of communism, totalitarianism and all forces which make the state supreme to the will of the people and the teachings of Christ, Pope Pius XII today called upon a war-torn world to return to God for divine aid in ending "strife and selfishness."

In obvious reference to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's violent destruction of the treaty of Versailles, the pontiff condemned unilateral denunciation of international agreements and forecast the abolition of "all mutual trust among states" if such policies are continued. He concluded with a plea to all rulers to allow the church to fulfill its role as educator of youth and inculator of justice.

"Heart Torn With Anguish"

His "heart torn with anguish" by the war and the "spiritual and moral bankruptcy" of the times, the pontiff directed against dictatorship and unfeeling state supremacy the strongest indictment in the history of the church.

British Reject Russia's Stand

Refute Russia's Contention That Blockade Is "Inhuman And Illegal"

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The British government decided today to reject, courteously but firmly Soviet Russia's note refusing to recognize Britain's contraband list on the grounds it violates the rights of neutral nations.

The British refute Russia's contention that Britain's blockade is "inhuman and illegal", pointing out that the contraband list closely follows that of the United States in the last war.

A British spokesman refused to admit that the Russian step was a setback for British efforts to widen Anglo-Soviet commercial negotiations or for their attempt to gain Russia's promise that goods sent to the U. S. S. R will not be relayed to Germany.

Informed circles also discounted newspaper suggestions that the Russian note constituted a plain attempt to help Germany defeat the blockade.

Chest Fund Is Now At $37,110

Reports Are Being Made Today In Second General Tabulation

DRIVE NOW MOVING TOWARD $60,000 GOAL

Pledges in New Castle's 1939 Community Chest campaign reached $37,110 when drive teams, at the call of drive leaders, assembled informally in The Castleton ballroom today at noon to make an accounting. Their goal is $60,000. On account of weather conditions many reports were delayed today.

It was the second general report of the workers. Last Monday night they had made their first accounting.

Unwilling to let down in their city-wide solicitation, determined taems have been hard at it now since the morning after the campaign formally opened at senior high school on the evening of October 16. They kept at it today, too, and intend to keep at it until all of the needed $60,000 is written down on pledge cards.

This morning Community Chest campaign headquarters at 37 North Mercer street, the hub of the intensive drive, reported that $35,328 had been subscribed so far. The noon total included the $35,328 and the minor boosts that came in the reports received at noon.

"Wear your bright red feather," Drive Chairman Marshall G. Matheny reminded workers and subscribers today. "The feather means you're pledged—and you want to let the public know about it."

South Siders Make Plans For Greatest Hallowe'en Parade

Hundreds of merry-making legions eagerly await the start of the 10th Hallowe'en celebration being sponsored by south side merchants, Tuesday evening, in the south side.

Final plans have been completed, Attorney Joseph Leta, Jr., general chairman, announced today. The various committees have checked every minute detail in the hope of staging one of the most colorful mummer's event in the history of the city.

A Yuletide tinge will be injected into the celebration. Hartzel Huston, chairman in charge of the lighting committee, today said that the streets in the south side will be brilliantly illuminated by the Christmas lights and decorations used during the Christmas season.

The various committees are busily engaged completing minor details. Local school bands will lend the musical touch.

The parade will be divided into three divisions. The first division, under the leadership of Harry Clark, with its judges, will assemble at the corner of Hamilton street and East Long avenue. Large Scale Air Raids Are Feared

Mass Attacks By 1,000 Planes Or More Expected On English Coast

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct 27.—Acting on information that large-scale German air raids—involving mass attacks of 1,000 or more planes—must be expected at any time on southeastern Scotland and northeastern England, home defense chiefs have taken thorough steps to meet and frustrate the assaults, it was learned today.

Secret plans also have been perfected to combat the raiding menace of the two German pocket battleships now known to be ranging the high seas—the Deutschland, reputed captor of the American freighter City of Flint, and the Admiral Von Scheer, at present dodging British pursuers somewhere off the South American coast.

Information obtained from German aviators taken prisoner after the recent raids on Britain proved that all past appearances of German aircraft on the Scottish and English coasts were mainly for the purpose of reconnaissance, and no serious effort has been made to conduct bombing attacks.

City Of Flint Leaves Russia Says Germany

Berlin Reports That Seized American Ship On Way From Murmansk

BELIEVED ENROUTE TO GERMAN PORT

Possibility Of Merry Chase By British Warships, Planes, Or Subs, Seen

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—Under command of a German prize crew and with 42 American seamen aboard as unwilling guests, the American freighter City of Flint ploughed through icy seas today en route to a German port following her "release" by Soviet authorities at Murmansk.

So far as is known in Berlin, Captain Joseph A. Gainard and the 41 American members of the City of Flint's original crew are on the City of Flint and will remain in German hands until the prize court at Hamburg disposes of their case.

While unofficial observers envisaged the possibility of a merry chase or even an engagement with British warships, planes or submarines, German naval authorities insisted the British could not safely penetrate the waters on which the City of Flint's route lies.

Vessel On Way

Official notification was received in Berlin from Moscow that the American vessel had been sent on her way. While in Murmansk harbor, it was learned, the City of Flint lay only a stone's throw from the luxury liner Bremen, interned in that port after her dramatic flight from New York just before the outbreak of war.

Authentic quarters declared that the Hamburg prize court would handle the City of Flint affair as a routine matter.

"We see no reason why there should be undue excitement in America," a spokesman said.

There was general jubilation over this latest German "victory", and the incident brightened the atmos-

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Belgium's neutral position was again questioned by the Reich today according to a German radio broadcast picked up by Reuters agency.

ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 27—A sharp warning to Soviet Russia against marching eastward or into the Balkans was delivered by Turkish Foreign Minister Shukro Saracoglu in an exclusive interview with this correspondent today.

While he insisted that present relations with the Soviets were cordial and friendly, Saracoglu left no doubt that any Russian aggression endangering the integrity and resources of Balkan and near eastern states would meet with concerted opposition by the Saadabad signatories.

AWAIT OFFICIAL REPORT OF STATUS OF SEIZED SHIP

the Soviet government would return the vessel and cargo to its American crew.

Although department officials declined to speculate on what action, if any, would be taken as a reprisal measure, they did state that all possible retaliatory steps are being canvassed.

Basis for a denounciation of Russia for committing an un-neutral act—if she has—would be article 21 of the 1907 Hague convention it was asserted. This article states:

"The prize ship must leave as soon as the circumstances which justified its entry are at an end. If it does not, the neutral power must order it to leave at once; should it fail to obey, the neutral power must employ the means at its disposal to release it with its officers and crew and to intern the prize crew."

It also specifies that a prize ship may only be brought into a neutral port due to "unseaworthiness, stress of weather or want of fuel or provisions."

Not Enough Information

President Roosevelt, at his press conference, reported that there was not enough official information available for him to say anything at this time concerning the City of Flint. In response to other questions as to why there was such a delay in receipt of official word from Moscow concerning the fate of the vessel, the president observed that it is quite a long distance from Moscow to Murmansk.

The City of Flint with its American crew of 42 and a cargo said to be less than 51 percent contraband was seized on the high seas by a Garman raider; a German prize crew put on board and the vessel sailed to the Russian port of Murmansk. There the freighter was detained and the German crew interned.

Less than a half-day after this government had formally demanded return of the vessel to its American crew, Berlin yesterday announced that the Soviets had released the freighter to the German crew and that it was the plan of the Nazi government to hold the ship, pending consideration of the case by a German prize court.

Seek Excuse

The German foreign office notified American Charge D'Affairs Alexander Kirk at Berlin that the City of Flint may have lacked proper charts and that this may have been one of the reasons she was taken to Murmansk.

The first reaction on the part of American officials to this explanation was that the German government was seeking some excuse to justify its claims on the vessel. The German foreign office also insisted the City of Flint carried contraband.

In disclosing the state department had demanded through American ambassador to Moscow Laurence Steinhardt that the ship be released to her crew. Secretary of State Hull asserted the United States stands on article 21 of the Hague agreement.

No reply has been received from the Soviet government to the American representations.

—BUY IN NEW CASTLE—

BRITISH FLEET MAY INTERCEPT CITY OF FLINT

on their side, in spite of American demands that the City of Flint be freed without restriction, the Soviets' position was puzzling.

Only four days after the City of Flint, captured in the Atlantic reputedly by the pocket battleship Deutschland and taken to Murmansk by a German boarding party, put into the Soviet port, the reds bade her an urgent farewell and, no doubt, good riddance.

Haste To Drop Hot Potato

All Russia's recent tokens of partiality for Germany were forgotten in the Soviets' haste to drop this hot potato thrust into her hands in such an unwelcome fashion.

Russia might have found a juridic excuse to do Germany a favor and intern the City of Flint; instead, Soviet inspectors hurriedly looked over her cargo of oils, machinery, and foodstuffs, gave her clearance, and told her to get out of Russian waters post-haste.

While it is true that Russia's act left the City of Flint in German hands, her Nazi prize crew must still face the perils of the open sea and the increased vigilance of the British navy.

Obviously the British will maintain the keenest look-out for the City of Flint, perhaps intending to take her and then liberate her in custody of the American crew for the action's propagandistic effect in the United States.

Pursue Deutschland

London, dispatches today revealed that fast and heavily armed British war craft are being sent out in pursuit of the Deutschland and her sister pocket battleship, the Admiral Von Sheer, both known to be prowling the Atlantic.

These British warships surely will strive to locate the City of Flint in the certainty that it will be bait for German U-boats and surface craft.

Although the tangled tale of the once insignificant little cargo carrier overshadowed other developments, forboding indications cropped out that Germany's aerial rain of destruction upon Great Britain is not far distant.

Britain has taken thorough preparation for air attacks on naval bases and munitions plants in Scotland and northeast England which, according to captured German airmen, may involve upwards of 100 Reich airplanes.

Nor has the possibility of a German land drive been ruled out entirely in spite of long rains on the western front which now have turned into snow.

Lawrence county voters, at the coming election, will not only ballot for four appelate court seats, but will select several county and city officials. In the final analysis these officials affect the lives and the pocketbooks of our local residents more intimately than do those in higher places. Old grist mills are in the same class with spinning wheels and blacksmith shops, according to the testimony in a court case this week. All three are on the shelf so far as present day usefulness is concerned. The spinning wheel, once so useful, is now a parlor relic, about which a well known song has been written, according to Attorney William McElwee, Jr. The blacksmith shop no longer stands under "the spreading chestnut tree" and sparks from the anvil no longer fly hither and yon. The smith, whose arms once bulged with muscles, "like iron bands," is fixing second hand cars and his muscles are more flabby, like rubber. Grist mills, once located on every sizable stream in the county, have taken their last "toll." Only a few old millstones, scattered here and there, mark the spots where once huge water-wheels droned their soothing lullabys. Truly we are living in a world of change.

ENCYLICAL IS ISSUED BY POPE

ute to President Roosevelt and Premier Mussolini for their attempts to stave off war before it began and expressed deepest sympathy over the fate of Poland. But in his condemnation of apostasy, anti-Christ and limitless power of the state he was unrelenting.

Bitter Words

For the inroads of the state upon the "higher authority" of Christ he had bitter words, and the "tendency of a return to paganism" in the world moved him to eloquent protest.

The war, said the pontiff on the eve of his return to the Vatican from his summer villa at Castel Gandolfo, rages "despite all our efforts to avoid it," and he expressed grave fears as to what yet may come "from the baneful seed of violence."

Initial Major Declaration

Godlessness and modern pagan tendencies were deplored as chief causes of the world's present troubles in the pope's initial major declaration, issued from his summer villa at Castel Gandolfo.

"The deep and ultimate root of present-day evils is the rejection of the universal form of morality, from which results a practical denial of God, of divinity, and of the teachings of Christ," a summary of the encyclical said.

"Hence there is derived a saddening return of paganism to the distress of consciences and of states."

Civil inroads on moral authority were assailed.

the relentless process of beating down amendments to salvage scraps of the embargo and swept debate along under an ironbound time limitation calculated to bring a roll call on the arms ban about 6 p. m.

Opponents of the administration embargo repeal bill expected to muster a maximum of 31 votes on their amendment to retain the embargo, approximately half of the 63 ballots counted on by proponents of repeal. Senator Clark (D) Missouri, sponsored the opposition's embargo retention amendment.

After the vote on embargo repeal final passage of the neutrality bill put forward by the president's supporters will be little more than a formality. When the record has been made on the arms ban issue, some of the repeal opponents are expected to come over and vote for final passage of the administration bill, accepting it as better than no legislation at all. Senate leaders expect to finally dispose of the measure and send it to the house before adjourning for the week-end.

NO POSSIBILITY OF SENDING U. S. BOYS TO EUROPE

forum of current events in New York City in which he slapped at communism, Nazism and fascism and proclaimed that his own course domestically would continue to be "just a little bit left of center."

It was the bold thrust at congressional opponents of arms embargo repeal which attracted most notice from capital observers, for Mr. Roosevelt said these breast-beating orators were guilty of a "shameless and dishonest fake" in arguing that the sons of American mothers were again in danger of fighting abroad.

No Suggestion Made

"The simple truth is that no person in any responsible place in the national administration in Washington, or in any state government, or in any city government, or in any county government, has ever suggested in any shape, manner or form the remotest possibility of sending the boys of American mothers to fight on the battlefields of Europe," declared the president.

"The fact of the international situation—the simple fact, without any bogey in it, without any appeals to prejudice—is that the United States, as I have said before, is neutral and does not intend to get involved in war."

Mr. Roosevelt then repeated his belief that we cannot be neutral "in thought as well as in act" because the public has too-decided a view on the relative merits of the European conflict.

Domestically, the president warned against those who would foster a communist, Nazi, or fascist type of government either by seeking to attain ideals at a pace the modern body politic can't stand, or by seeking to put the whole of government into the hands of a little group. He added, however, that extreme rightists and extreme leftists shouldn't be shot against the wall "for they sharpen the argument and make us realize the value of the democratic middle course."

The press and radio got praise from the president for their handling of war news and their sifting of fact from propaganda. Sticking to an old personal argument, he suggested it might be well to have more of such handlage in the field of domestic news.

phere for initial Russo-German economic negotiations beginning this afternoon. Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop personally welcomed the imposing Soviet delegation of 45 economic and military experts on their arrival in Berlin.

Their object is to draw up complete plans for shipment of huge supplies of raw materials to Germany in exchange for German manufactured products and Nazi aid in construction of Soviet industrial plants.

German quarters were generally satisfied with President Roosevelt's strong endorsement of American neutrality in his address last night, but characterized as "vague and unclear" his remarks concerning individual American thought and reaction to the war.

Reported On Way

Moscow, Oct. 27.—Apparently still in charge of a German prize crew of 18, the United States merchantman City of Flint was believed to be steaming rapidly away from Murmansk harbor, bound probably for Germany.

Soviet Russia had rid herself of the international problem child, but official announcements left doubt as to the circumstances under which the American ship went on her way.

An official statement at midnight said only that the City of Flint's cargo—which the boat's German captors said was largely contraband—had been carefully inspected, and then the steamer received clearance papers. She was ordered to leave port at once.

Lacking further information, observers presumed that the American crew of 41 was still aboard the freighter, under the charge of the Germans who boarded her after she was intercepted by the German pocket battleship Deutschland.

The United States embassy this morning said it had no additional information about the City of Flint, chiefly because of the remoteness of Murmansk harbor.

Fashion Show Depicts New Style Trends This Season

Fashion once more recalls the gaiety and elegance that was England's in the '90's—the Edwardian era—with its rich fabrics, fabulous jewels, its frivolity—we find ourselves be-furred and be-jeweled with gay '90's waistlines, flounces, basques—and to compliment the season's new trend—accessories to mix or match costumes—and this is only a twinkling of one of the season's most complete and smartest style shows—that which was given in the Strouss-Hirshberg company, and sponsored by the Junior Reading Circle Thursday evening, which was most anxiously awaited by a throng of several hundred guests.

W. R. Short, head of the merchandise and ready-to-wear department of the store, introduced each model and described her attire, telling of the highlights being donned by the women.

He announced that we find that black is again the favorite, we also find ourselves in highly approving with enthusiasm, these new colors, moss leaf green, tuscon grape, pigeon blue and winetone; fire-engine red is a daring new color—and while make-up all over the country has "been in the red" for the past few months—dame Fashion has adopted it, in intriguing sports wear, daytime frocks and evening gowns.

Models displayed on the mezzanine floor of the Strouss-Hirshberg company, a splendid collection of sports coats, untrimmed casual coats and tailored dresses, the popular "reefers" that square the shoulders and whittle down the waistline—hooded reversible coats—while for afternoon and evening "separates" are causing must excitement this season. All kinds of hats are being worn—everything from high postillions to tiny fluffs of fur worn over the eye—not forgetting that feathered beauties, rich velvets—furs and pelts claim their places. Suits are lavishly trimmed with fur—and costume suits achieve an air of elegance through this medium. A collection of luxurious fur coats represented both the boxy and fitted models—squared shoulder — flared skirts with the cardigan neckline and mandarin sleeve. Felt and colored capeskin are two new fabrics being shown for handbags, and costume jewelry is very elaborate with gold being most popular—while colored stones share much of the limelight, too.

In last evening's prominade of models, it didn't only pertain to adults—but little tots in dainty frocks and sports wear that matches mother's, captivated the audience to the n'th degree. The aw's and oh's that were heard from guests, further verified the acceptance of an array of exquisite, smart, yet inexpensive styles for glorifying the little lady this season.

Adults modeling were Mrs. Wanda McBride, Mrs. Isabel Vonderau, Marilou Schonhofen, Eileen Hoover, Mrs. Margaret Shaffer, Mrs. Gertrude Wright, Mary Wilson and Alice Crawford. "Little Tots Department" frocks were modeled by Mary Ida Ailey, Merabeth Meyer, Donna Allen, Marston Whieldon and Grace Short.

At the conclusion of the fashion revue, cards were immediately put into play for those wishing to tarry awhile. Prizes were awarded at each table to the high score holder.

Special door prizes, donated by Jack Gerson and the Economy Shoe Store were won by Mrs. J. F. Rentz and Mrs. Fred Byers.

Miss Helen Sheaffer, president of the Junior Reading Circle, and her committee who co-operated in making the event such a success, are deeply appreciative for the support and assistance given. The proceeds will be used for a worthy cause, going to purchase shoes for needy school children.

ENVY OF THE WORLD

IN examining the 1940 motor cars now available in this area, citizens should realize that they have in the automotive industry of America a giant enterprise which is sharing benefits with the public. There is a constant effort toward improvement of the product. One-fourth of all industrial research laboratories in America are automotive. The result shows in the comparison that in 1920 the average sedan of 43 horsepower sold for $2,877. This year the average car of 85 horsepower sells for $795.

This passing of profits back to the public is the proper function of mass production that should be practiced in all fields and must be if the country is to prosper.

In addition to more economical production the automotive industry has vastly increased comfort and efficiency of operation. Handling in operation is effortless. Costs have been greatly reduced through efficiency of construction.

In no other era in history has so fine a product been conceived in the minds of scientists and achieved by the hands of artisans. It is the high water mark of industrial accomplishment in any age. And its superiority and availability are very much a part of the set-up which makes America the envy of the world.

WAR RICHES A DANGEROUS DELUSION

William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors Corporation, undoubtedly is on firm ground in refuting the charge that business men "like to see war come so they can make a pot of money out of it."

There are businesses in which war abroad produces sudden profits. In addition, war acts as a shot in the arm to certain industries and branches of commerce. But Mr. Knudsen is entirely right in asserting that business in general dreads the approach of war, because it realizes that the total effect will be a disastrous upsetting of all the economic conditions that promote steady, stable trade.

If American business men are wise they will not count on another war boom to build a more prosperous nation. America's costly experience has been that war booms are a delusion, bringing in their wake unemployment, closed factories, ruinous farm surpluses and monumental debts.

CUT DOWN ON WAR FILMS!

A newspaper movie critic raises his voice in an appeal to Hollywood not to make too many war pictures. Right now, of course, there is some interest, but they could easily be overdone. Spies and battles and aerial bombardments and submarine sinkings make diverting melodrama for people at peace. People in a war-torn world soon want something different when they turn away from their newspapers to the screen for entertainment.

The editor of a London movie publication sends a similar plea to this country. "If Hollywood is wise," he writes, "it will concentrate on films that are definitely of a light theme and so do something to cheer people up instead of making their burdens heavier to bear. Solemn, dreary portentous subjects should be taboo.

"What this country wants today is humor. Make them laugh and they'll crowd in, for they're not going to the cinemas to cry. So America can play its part by giving us pictures we can sit back and enjoy—and forget the war."

This is written before the war is two months old. The need for cheer will be greater as time goes on.

THE THOUGHTLESS FEW

The many suffer for the transgressions of the few. This would be a platitude if it were not that modernity has given it greater significance.

The most common way the blameless many are made to expiate the wrongs of the few is through legislation. Things carried to excess invite prohibitory and restrictive legislation, although in moderation they would have escaped the lawmakers. But once they are embodied in the statutes the temperate are punished with the intemperate.

It is conceivable that there would be no speed laws limiting the motorist on the straight broad and untraveled highway to drive as slowly as the one on the winding, narrow and busy thoroughfare if a thoughtless few had exercised reasonable care.

Among those enterprises resorting to poster advertising the complaint is common that there would now be heard no talk of legislative restriction against advertising signboards along highways if a few of the advertisers and board owners had been more politic in their choice of sites.

It is a defect in the governmental system that it does not permit discrimination in favor of the petty offender.

With one tax or another piled on the harrassed motor industry, it has long puzzled many persons why the jinrikshaw never caught on in this country.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

What is "high frequency" deafness?

It is deafness to sounds of certain pitches.

Some sounds may be normally heard but not others.

These are usually sounds of high pitch.

Hence, the term "high frequency" deafness.

Some children are very late in learning to talk.

The question arises, "Does the child hear?"

Markedly defective hearing may cause delayed speech.

It is not easy to determine the presence of a hearing defect.

When it has been established as a fact, great care is needed.

The child should learn from a teacher of speech to the deaf.

OH, BOY!

At seventeen a boy isn't very old but he's old enough to be a philosopher. Two boys feeling like men of the world, were talking in the presence of the father of one.

"You don't get anywhere by holding a boy in," said one.

"No," said the other. 'I've seen plenty of boys go wild because their parents were too strict."

"Yes," continued the first, "if you hold them down when they're in high school they'll break loose when they go to college.'

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PATIENCE CURES FIBBING

A LETTER from a mother says in part: "This is a letter of thanks from a happy mother. I have been writing to you at intervals for the past four years, and you have given me much help in raising my young man, almost five years old. Now there is something else I have wanted to ask you about. My boy has started fibbing about things which really have no importance. For instance, this morning he came home with a flower he had picked. He started to explain that he hadn't picked the flower but wasn't it pretty; it was for me. But I had seen him pick it. What should I do in a case like this. I passed it off that I knew that he had picked it and was just teasing, telling me he hadn't, and no more was said. But such has happened often lately and I don't know just what is best to do.

"P. S.—Dr. Myers, your plan of getting the co-operation of the older children, who are inclined to be bullies, by a little diplomatic bribery (which they don't recognize as bribery) has worked like a charm with the children around here. A small package of gum once every three or four days has worked wonders for me."

No Need To Worry

My reply to her: It certainly is heartening to me to learn that some of my humble efforts have been helpful. Because you have had so many successes with that lad and cultivated so fine a relationship with him, I am sure you need have no worry about the fibbing problem. You handled the case of the flower well. Next time you have a similar case, in which you have all the facts, say to him: "I wish you would tell me only what really happened so I can always know whether it happened or not. It might mix me up and cause me a lot of trouble if you told me something just for fun that wasn't so. You know you would be mixed up, too, if you could not always count on what Daddy and I tell you."

But in the event that you suspect this child is fibbing but don't have the facts, say nothing, do nothing. Never try to corner him and make him confess, since there is no better way to train a child to lie. So deal with him that he will see for himself that in his family everybody can count on everybody else, since everyone there loves everyone else. Such can come to the child as the air he breathes, and usually without any explanation.

JUST CURIOSITY

The busy-body who is always curious about other people's affairs should read the story of the "mongoose."

In a certain stage-coach in the last century there sat among the other travelers a man who carried a box very carefully on his knees. This box so excited the curiosity of another traveler that he finally said, "Mister, pardon me for asking, but what have you in that box?"

"A mongoose," he replied.

"Is that so?" responded the curious fellow. "And what is a mongoose?"

"A mongoose is a small animal we use for killing snakes."

"To be sure, but where are you going to use your mongoose for killing snakes?"

"Well," the traveler answered, "you see, my brother has delirium tremens, and I'm bringing this mongoose for him to use to kill the snakes."

This answer stumped the other man, but after about a mile he chimed in again. "But, stranger, you don't need a mongoose to kill the snakes of a man who has delirium tremens. They are only imaginary snakes."

"I know," the man replied patting the box lightly; this is only an imaginary mongoose."

The "inferiority complex" is one tragic result of any period of financial depression. It blights even those workers who have lost their jobs despite their superior efficiency. After being refused the hundredth time by personnel managers and employment bureaus they begin to doubt their own worth. In these days, clinics that will raise fallen chins are even more needed than those that raise fallen arches. Especially girls who have acquired inferiority complexes while job-seeking are likely to display unnatural nervousness while employers are giving them those unjust "tests" that are not such accurate indices to their real ability as are a few days of actual probationary work.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: I have no objection to make-up. In fact, I think it improves most women. But I do think that it is in bad taste for girls to sit in public places, at a restaurant table, for instance, take out compacts, lipsticks, rouge boxes, etc. and do a renovation job. What do you think?—An Old-Fashioned Boy.

Answer: Such public performances do, in fact, spoil the illusion that make-up is supposed to create upon feminine features. The primary purposes of cosmetics is to compensate for the shortcomings of Old Mother Nature, who frequently neglects to give us rosy cheeks and ruby lips with which to be aluring to the opposite sex. Therefore, public repairs amount to public proclamations of defects. Of course, ever since time immemorial, women have been unable to pass a mirror without giving a glance to see that all is well. It is just an old feminine custom which will prevail as long as there are women and mirrors into which they may cast their reflections. But the clever woman will do her primping and repairing unobserved by a roomful of onlookers—especially by the man on whom she is trying to make an impression.

What's What At A Glance

Preparedness Can Become Issue
Military Might May Lead To War
Stewart Recalls World War Plan

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Uncle Sam is developing considerable military, naval and aviation ability. The army's being enlarged. Our fighting fleet is being strengthened. Our air force is being stimulated. Our industrial equipment is being keyed up to meet possible wartime requirements.

Chairman Key Pittman and Sol Bloom, respectively of the senate and house foreign relations committees, just now are the two busiest legislators in Washington, but next to them, in point of activity, are Chairman Morris Sheppard and Andrew J. May of the senate and house military affairs committees and chairman David I. Walsh and Carl Vinson of the senate and house naval affairs committees.

The theory is that a country which is so strong as to be hopelessly dangerous to tackle is pretty sure to be left in peace; that a weak country is sure to be imposed on. The counter-argument is that a very strong country is likely to be tempted to use its strength aggressively. Of course, it will say it's using it defensively, but pacifists maintain that it's hard to tell the difference.

It can be reasoned either way.

Potentially strong but actually unarmed China can be jumped on by essentially weaker but better-prepared Japan. Germany, loaded for bear, isn't afraid to go to the mat with anybody. Maybe it's an overbearing attitude.

War Versus Peace

Well, we're preparing for war, to guarantee peace, so far as we're concerned.

I saw the same prescription tried 20-odd years ago.

My recollection of it dates back, in a ridiculous way, to the Ford Peace Ship.

When the Oscar II sailed from Hoboken for Europe in 1915, with its cabins full of peace crusaders, among its passengers was S. S. McClure, the magazine man. Just before we departed he'd acquired an advanced copy of President Wilson's "preparedness message" to congress. We needed to 'prepare", said the president, in order to scare war away from us.

"The Horsecar Second of the Transatlantic Crosstown Line", as the Oscar II was known to the newspaper men on board, was about 48 hours at sea before the arrival of the "release gate" of that message.

At that juncture Colonel (a courtesy title) McClure read the message, in general assembly in the second class dining salon, to the "peacers"—approximately 300 of 'em.

Instantly they split two ways.

One bloc asserted that the president was right—that "preparedness" was a peace measure. The other bloc contended that it was the first step toward our entrance into the conflict.

Split Wide Open

It split the Peace Expedition wide open.

The anti-"preparedness" faction wanted to wireless back a condemnation of the Wilsonian program. The pro-"preparedness" crowd wouldn't let 'em do it. The war itself wasn't fought as bitterly as that contest was fought between the rival groups of "peacers" on that voyage. Numberless insults were exchanged, even whiskers were pulled on the high sea in connection with that controversy.

It was a shipload of cranks, to be sure. Ashore, scattered and diluted by a lot of rational atmosphere, individuals certainly wouldn't have become so cuckoo. But bottle up 300 of 'em in one ship, under hatches, in mid-Atlantic in winter weather, and let 'em ferment!—and the brew's due to be something weird and wonderful.

I always thought the anti-"preparedness" bunch won the argument.

We did "prepare"—somewhat. And we got into the war.

I've met many surviving Ford "peacers" since then. The then anti-"preparedness" spokesmen say that we got in because we "prepared". The then pro-"preparedness" spokesmen say that we got in because we didn't prepare sufficiently.

But they all were "peacers".

MAN'S PURPOSE

Now the busy day is done
And the sweet night settles down.
Now the little gain is won,
With its profit and renown,
And to home the toilers turn,
Where is all that matters most
And abides the grave concern
Which has held them fast to post.

Pick whatever words you will,
Phrase it any way you choose,
Call it sentiment, but still
Home is what men keep or lose.
Home's the goal a man pursues,
And though trite the statement seems,
In whatever speech you use,
Home's the end of all his dreams.

Back of every hammer blow,
Every printed thought or sung,
Is the home with love aglow
From his labor to be wrung.
Though man deals in terms of gold,
What he seeks are rugs and plate
And the joys four walls can hold
With red flowers beside his gate.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT
Copyright, 1939, by The Baltimore Sun

Not For A Year, Anyhow

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.

WITHIN the last week, or so, two things concerning this war have come to be accepted generally in Washington, political circles. Embargo repealers and anti-repealers alike, Republicans as well as Democrats are in accord about these. One is that it will be a long war; the other that there is no chance at all that we will get into it until after the 1940 elections.

SO far as the first is concerned, it reflects the views of the military experts, it is also the privately expressed conviction of the State Department. There is nothing they feel in the present situation to justify a hope of peace for a good while to come. On the contrary, there is every reason to feel that a war of indefinite length is in progress, the outcome of which is uncertain, and the end of which can only be guessed at.

AS to our aloofness for at least a year, that belief is based on the fact that it would be so clearly politically inexpedient to go in before. The only agency that can take us in, of course is the Administration and the Administration certainly will not do that until the Presidential elections are out of the way. This is not intended to allege that it is either. Mr. Roosevelt's desire or his purpose to take us into war after the campaign is over: it is intended to point out that no politician of whatever faction or party thinks there is any danger of events taking us in before.

AND this includes the isolation leaders in the Senate who proclaim to the world that repeal of the embargo is the first step toward war and the next is bound to follow swiftly. There may be some who believe that, but the more clear-headed know better. They know that pro-Ally as Mr. Roosevelt undoubtedly is, he would far prefer to bring about peace than involve us in war. If he had no higher motive than to promote his own political fortune that would be true. It is not balanced to believe that he plans to involve us in the struggle in order to make himself dictator or secure a third term or gratify his desire to be a war President. Even those who distrust him the most find it difficult to reconcile ideas of that sort with reason.

IT is much more reasonable to give Mr. Roosevelt credit for as much patriotism and decency as the average man, but at the same time believe that he is fully alive to the political potentialities of the situation. With the feeling of this country what it is, is the way to make the most of these is not to move toward war, but move away from it—at least for the next year. And by that time there may or may not be a war. No one can tell. It therefore seems likely that once he succeeds in lifting the embargo, and thus giving the Allies all the aid we can short of ships and soldiers, Mr. Roosevelt's weight for the next twelve months will be thrown on the side of aloofness rather than participation: that he will try to edge us away from actual entanglement in the conflict rather than toward it; that he will try to prove those who in this fight have insisted that he wants to take us in, wrong instead of right.

NO other course for him makes sense—particularly no other course makes political sense—at least for another year. Accordingly, the expectation is that following final action on embargo repeal, scheduled in about two weeks, Congress will adjourn and the President devote himself in the interval before it meets again in January to convincing the country by the absence of belligerent gestures and provocative language that opponents of repeal did him an injustice and that his first concern is to keep this country out of war. The Administration emphasis will be almost entirely upon strengthening the national defenses, not at all upon prospective entrance. At any rate, such are the present plans as outlined by the White House strategists.

THEY recognize that with the passage of the embargo repeal, the burden of proof of his pacific intentions will rest upon Mr. Roosevelt. The Republicans, anxious to become identified as the non-war party, will scrutinize his every act and word with the view of making clear his predilection for war. The hope is that Mr. Roosevelt's general attitude plus repetition of some of his less discreet utterances and acts will convince the people that their real guarantee of peaceful aloofness lies in the Republican party. If it can be helped, the New Dealers do not intend that that shall happen.

GINSENG MUCH USED IN CHINA

USE RED CROSS FLAG

Excepting in Turkey, notes a writer in Collier's Weekly, all Red Cross societies use the standard Red Cross flag, which is the reverse of the flag of Switzerland, the country where this organization originated in 1863. IRRADIATED MILK SUPPLIES NECESSARY VITAMIN D

A good deal of progress has been made in adding to milk the vitamins in which it is deficient. For instance, Vitamin D is one of the hardest vitamins to get in foods. We have only two good sources of it—sunlight and cod-liver oil. But now we can get milk to which the vitamin has been added by irradiation.

Of course in the summer, this vitamin takes care of itself, mostly because we are out in the sunshine so much, absorbing it into our systems. The vitamin is found in the ultra violet rays of the sun. In winter the ultra violet rays diminish so much that there isn't much of the vitamin to be had from that source. Added to this, people don't expose their bodies to the sun in the winter as they do in summer.

These are the reasons we must find supplies of the vitamin elsewhere. Normally it is present in milk in such small quantities that it doesn't help greatly. Today, however, science has developed a way to add this vitamin to milk.

When the milk is being processed by a dairy that does this sort of thing, it is run through shallow pans under the ultra-violet ray irradiator. This deposits the vitamin D in the milk. About 135 units of vitamin D per quart is the amount milk will absorb under the present process.

By controlled feeding tests, this concentration has been found sufficient to prevent rickets in a normal body without his receiving the vitamin from any other source. However, it is pretty close to the minimum, so to be on the safe side I always advise parents not to neglect giving cod-liver oil as well.

Milk loses nothing by irradiation; it does provide an extra supply of the vitamin we are talking about. If you like, you may decrease the amount of cod-liver oil the child takes, particularly if he is one of those who hates the stuff. This irradiated milk is especially good for older children and adults. In spite of good intentions and instructions, an older child, left to administer the cod-liver oil himself, may avoid or neglect it. The same is true of adults. I know I try to make a practice of taking cod-liver oil every day of the winter months. But often I forget. Well, if you are taking irradiated milk this oversight isn't so important or so serious.

In most cities now you can get irradiated milk, that is, with vitamin D added. There are two other ways of adding the vitamin to milk. One is to add a concentrated form of cod-liver oil to the milk. The other is to feed the cattle that supply the milk on a diet of high vitamin content. Both these methods are good, but they aren't used as widely as the irradiated process.

It is interesting to see how the milk of various mammals vary. For instance, when a baby whale swims over to his mother at mealtime he gets milk which is almost 50 percent fat. The mare feeds her colt milk which is only one percent fat. To show you how close cows and human milk compare, the average cow's milk contains 3.95 percent fat, and the humar milk 3.86 percent—less than a tenth of one percent difference. Of course this is the reason that cow's milk is the most beneficial food man has—it comes the closest to the food his mother gave him when he was a baby.

Judge W. Walter Braham is holding court in Pittsburgh this week.

County commissioners opened bids for furniture for the prothonotary's office yesterday, but will check up on the bids before letting the contract. There were four bids presented.

Additional reasons for a new trial have been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of Frank D. DeFelice, convicted of assault and battery. It is alleged in the reasons that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence, and the court erred on several points in charging the jury.

Will of the late Charles W. B. Feister of the second ward has been admitted to probate by Register and Recorder Orville Potter. Decedent leaves all of his property, real and personal, to his wife, Josephine M. Feister, who is also named as executrix.

For the first time in the history of the county, officialdom connected with the court house is housed on county property. The judges' offices, district attorney, county superintendent of schools, welfare department, farm bureau, registration bureau, are all either housed, or will be, this week, in the Boyles homestead. The offices are a marvel of beauty and convenience, and the county will save considerable money in the way of rents.

An appeal from the decision of Alderman L. C. Mantz has been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of Fred B. Allen against Curtis Fritz. The case was one growing out of damages in an automobile accident. The alderman awarded $166.75.

Subpoena in divorce has been awarded by Judge Thomas W. Dickey in the case of Helen M. Warren of 632 John street against Earl R. Warren of East North street. The couple were married in 1932. Application for divorce is made by Mrs. Warren on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment.

Property owners whose school taxes are delinquent have only until Wednesday, November 1, to take advantage of the 1939 state tax abatement act, and to begin the payment of their outstanding levies on the installment plan. The taxpayer taking advantage of the plan will save all interest and penalties on taxes for the year 1934 and prior thereto, and all penalties from 1935 to 1938 inclusive. He may pay his first installment on November 1 and subsequent installments of a fifth of the total amount on or before the first day of November in each succeeding year. In addition to paying his delinquency in installments, the taxpayer must also pay each year all the current taxes for that year before they become delinquent.

Register and Recorder Orville Potter has admitted to probate the will of the late James Dime. Decedent left all his property, real and personal, to his brother, Patrick Fox, and nephew, Raymond Fox. Each is to share equally in the estate. Thomas G. Lamoree is named as executor. Lest this may be confusing as to names, it may be stated that Dime's real name was Fox. He adopted the name of Dime early in his athletic career, and was always afterwards known by that name.

PLANE IS TREASURE SHIP

(International News Service)

PRINCE GEORGE, B. C.—A modern airplane recently was turned into a treasure ship that nearly rivaled the ancient Spanish galleons that ferried gold from Mexico to Spain. The plane delivered 360 pounds of gold, in dust and bricks worth approximately $140,000 to the postmaster at Prince George. The gold was mined in the Yukon.

Of course it will be a long war. It will take years to shake things down so everybody can see what they're fighting for.

Homecoming Is Arranged

Tenth Anniversary Of Rev. Rees T. Williams Also To Be Observed

PLANNING TWO SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Marking the tenth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Rees T. Williams at the First Congregational church and also a Homecoming for former members, two special services have been arranged for the church for Sunday October 29 .

Two extended programs have been arranged which will include a number of musical specialties by former members, choral singing and remarks by officers of the church. For the morning service Rev. Rees T. Williams will deliver the sermon, his subject being "From Age to Age The Same."

Committee In Charge

In charge of the homecoming arrangements is a committee consisting of Henry T. Jones as chairman, Griffith Thomas, secretary, Daniel Hughes, Jr., William P. Williams, Mrs. James G Davis and Mrs. Carl E.Turner. The organist is Mrs. John M. Evans and the choir director is John M. Evans.

The ten years Rev. Williams has served the First Congregational church have been ten years of service and sacrifice. In that period of time there has been the joy of service, personal grief and the cares of the congregation but through it all the pastor has done this job looking ahead always to a brighter future. His work has been appreciated by his congregation and by the citizens of the city, and the celebration service is as much a tribute to him as it is a welcome to former members.

County Bankers Hear GNCA Head

Executive Vice President Andrews Speaker At Hotel Dinner

New Castle and Lawrence county bankers were told last night that one of the major objectives of the Greater New Castle Association along the industrial development front "is to assist existing industries by bringing about and maintaining economic conditions which will enable them to operate at a profit".

Arthur H. Andrews, executive vice president of the community organization, spoke of the broad purposes of the GNCA at a dinner of the Lawrence County Bankers' asociation in The Castleton. Banks in all sections of the county were represented.

Declaring that the present tendency of mounting taxation of all kinds "is the greatest menace to the restoration of normal prosperity." Andrews stressed that it is the duty of citizens, business men and business organization to inform public officials of the depressing load those growing taxes are placing on business and industry.

He pointed to the inconsistency in denouncing increasing taxation in one breath and in asking the government for a large grant for some public building or project in the other.

"The Greater New Castle Association," said the executive head of the organization, "is the one instrument through which all groups here can work together to bring about a genuine improvement in economic and industrial conditions."

Edgar L. Thompson, president of the bankers' association, presided.

Babson Says Philippines Ideal For Homesteading After Inspecting Islands

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1939, Publishers Financial Bureau)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 27.—Ever since I visited the Philippine Islands last month, I have been wondering why the United States Government sent several hundred "unemployed" farming families to Alaska instead of the Philippines. I confess that I am not an authority on the Islands, having stayed there only four days. Certain visionaries, however, have not spent even four minutes in this locality. Hence, for those interested in 1940 "pioneering," let me say something now about the Philippines. It is a subject to which ninety-nine per cent of Americans have given too little thought—of this I am firmly convinced.

BABSON

From purely a trade point-of-view, the Philippines are not too important to the United States. Their foreign trade is less than 3 per cent of the United States total. I am told that Java could land sugar in the United States after payment of duty for about what it now costs the Philippines to produce it. Sugar, however, is not the only important product of the Islands although it is the one that people in the United States hear most about.

Copra, Hemp Needed Here

Copra and other products of the coconut are very important. From copra comes the oil which is used in fine soaps, margarines, and cooking oils. The dairy and cotton-seed interests of the States object, however, to importing this copra duty free. Rice is another important Philippine product, although not enough is raised to satisfy the needs of the Islands. Hemp is the outstanding raw material which the people of the United States gladly welcome free of duty. The Philippine Islands produce the finest hemp in the world.

The production of tobacco and the manufacture of cigars is on the increase. So are other industries. Most of these compete to some extent with business in the States. Even Hollywood is jealous because the Philippines are now coming up among countries making moving pictures. On the other hand, the Islands are the big purchasers of many of America's products. At a public discussion regarding the complete independence of the Philippines, I stated that the Islands must not expect "both to have their cake and eat it, too." That is, they must choose either a territorial status and free trade with the United States—or "independence" and the payment of the same duties which other foreign nations pay.

Islands Vital To Our Shipping

The same statement applies to the people of the United States. We cannot expect the Philippines to buy our machinery, automobiles, radios, textiles, and a thousand other of our manufactured products unless we are willing to buy their sugar, copra, tobacco, hemp and other raw materials. Since the war, the Philippines have become an even better customer of the United States. This is a very important fact to remember. If we wish to prevent Japan from taking our shipping business away from us, American ships must have goods to haul. I go further and say that without a growing trade between the Philippines and America, we cannot keep our merchant marine on the Pacific! Hence, we cannot expect "both to have our cake and eat it, too!"

As the situation now stands, we have promised the Philippines complete independence in 1946. Up until the time of Japan's ruthless attack upon China, the Islands were very happy over the idea. Since then, however, many thoughtful Filipinos have been worrying. They are now asking themselves two questions: (1) Will the Japanese try to take the Islands after 1946; and (2) Could the Filipinos protect themselves if Japan should try to take them? Frankly, there seems little point in discussing these questions today. Great world events will take place between now and 1946.

No Fear Of Japanese

Yet, I do not now see how, without considerable help from us through tariff concessions and otherwise, our "little brown brothers" can raise the money necessary for military protection against Japanese invasion. Today, however, the Filipinos have no fear on this score. They are both brave and proud. They have heard so much all their lives about the advantages of full independence, that they are determined to try it. However, conditions in the Orient during the next ten years may work to the disadvantage of the Philippines.

Meanwhile, the Philippines will continue as the frontier of America. The chief argument of our 8,000,000 unemployed is that virgin fertile land no longer exists in the United States for them; that the good lands of the west have been fully settled; and hence "relief" must be considered a fixed and permanent expense. Because of these arguments some "pioneer" families were trundled off to Alaska several years ago. But the Philippines are a far better bet for such homesteading. They have fertile soil, sufficient rains, and every agricultural advantage. No one starves.

Homestead The Islands

Moreover, I believe the cost of living there is lower than in any other part of the civilized world offering similar opportunities. I certainly would like to see the United States buy land in the Islands and open it up to American farmers on a homesteading basis. The Philippines have millions of acres of wonderfully fertile and healthy land and a friendly and progressive people. Much of our United States is mere sandhills compared with what the Philippines can offer.

The only hope for 8,000,000 of our unemployed is a return to the land. The Philippine Islands have millions of acres of good land which need farmers. I do not mean one-crop farmers, but those willing to raise all they consume except their shirts and shoes. I do not know whether or not this is practical; but it surely should be thoroughly tried out before 1946. The answer to such an experiment should largely determine the decision as to the future relationship between the United States and these rich but distant islands.

Beverage Alcohol And Social Progress

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God?"—1 Corinthians 6:9.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for October 29 is Micah 2:9-11; Luke 21:29-31, 34-36; I Corinthians 6:9-11, the Golden Text being I Corinthians 6:9, "Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the Kingdom of God?")

This is International Temperance Sunday, and we are to study the effects of beverage alcohol on social progress. We have seen in previous lessons the social perils of strong drink; how it wrecks the home; how it affects the community, and how we shall see the manner in which social progress is hindered.

To illustrate the manner in which we may all discern the signs of the times, Jesus told a parable, saying that when we see the fig and other trees bursting into bud, we know summer is at hand. We must, He said, take heed that our hearts be not overcharged with "surfeiting and drunkenness," and we must watch and pray that we do not fall into the snare of such sins because the signs will point as truly to our downfall as the budding leaves on the trees point to summer.

You remember the story of King Belshazzar, who entertained his court and guests by inviting them to drink wine out of the holy vessels which had been stolen by his father from the temple. That was the end of Belshazzar, you remember, as the handwriting on the wall warned him that the end of his life had come and that his country was to be taken over by the Medes and Persians.

Watch And Pray

"Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that we may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man," says Jesus. Those that are given to self-indulgence are not prepared to inhabit Christ's kingdom.

Over-indulgence in liquor distorts the judgment and wisdom of those who would lead others. Priests and prophets, says Isaiah, "have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment."

As the standard of living in the home is lowered when members of the family indulge in strong drink with money needed for food, clothing and housing, so overindulgence in strong liquors affects the community, bringing poverty and want in its train, it also prevents healthy social progress. The money spent for drink is needed for educational purposes, in feeding children properly so that they may resist disease and that their minds may be clear to assimilate education. No one who drinks too much strong liquor can keep a clear head—and strong, clear thinking is badly needed in the world today. Europe may destroy herself with disastrous wars, but we should pray for wisdom, tolerance and understanding to help where we can in the way Christ would do were He on earth today.

Clear Head For Propaganda

We are constantly being warned against propaganda. It takes all the wisdom of which we are capable, in these times, to tell truth from falsehood. For the good of the whole world, we should strive to be clear headed and do nothing which will demoralize us and our judgment.

As young people grow up temptations are all about them. How can they avoid them? In Paul's letter to the Galatians he says: "Walk in the spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh." Further he says, "The fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law."

And in his letter to the Ephesians he also gives advice on withstanding temptation: "Be strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might.

"Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

Before there can be any real social progress places that promote drinking, vice and crime must be cleaned up. Law observance, justice and morality help social progress, so does self-control, and religion helps us to "be strong," as the Apostle Paul says, and take a stand against evil.

British Youth Sets Record For Holding Breath

(International News Service)

LONDON.—Asked to hold his breath while undergoing a medical test for the British Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, 25-year-old A. J. Sheffield, of West Bridford, Nottingham, Eng., achieved fame and record.

He obeyed the instruction for five minutes 40 seconds, astounding the experts, for the average fit young man can manage little more than a minute.

The doctor was so startled by the young man's feat that he called in Wing-Commander Pabley, in charge of recruiting, and the test was repeated. This time Sheffield held his breath for five minutes 39 seconds.

Tells How He Did It

Sheffield, who's a printer, a non-smoker and athlete, explaining how he managed his feat, said:

"I knew I was in for a very severe examination, and my sole intention was to hold my breath until I could hold out no longer.

"When the strain began to tell I drew up my shoulders, brought up my chest and was able to keep on.

"I was just as much amazed as the doctor when I found I had been holding my breath for nearly six minutes."

According to a report on respiratory tests by the British Air Medical Investigation Committee, published in 1918, the average length of time which a fit man could hold his breath was 66 seconds. The longest record was 125 seconds.

Type Of Books Sought At Public Library Shows Effect Of War Outbreak

Change Is Seen Since Development Of European War This Fall

HITLER'S BOOK IS MUCH IN DEMAND

Most in demand book at the public library at the present time was revealed today by Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, as "Mein Kampf," written by Adolf Hitler.

Although not a new book, "Mein Kampf," had failed until recent months to attract more than a minimum of attention; and during the years since it was written, it could generally be found on the library shelves.

The economic stress brought about by the present wars in Europe has produced a very noticeable increase in demand for books, found in the library, having any dealing with international relations. Long reserve lists carrying names of anxious patrons who desire to increase their knowledge regarding the foreign situation, are found on the file cards of books coming under the above type.

H. Rauschning's, "Revolution of Nihilism; Warning to the West," is another of the volumes in demand. Rauschning was once high up in the German government and his book is crammed with German methods and ideas.

"Let the Record Speak," by Dorothy Thompson is found to be much in demand in recent months, carrying its share of the reserve cards.

Also drawing more than usual attention is, "Europe on the Eve," and Franz Borkeman's, "The New German Empire."

The second book of Major George F. Elliott, titled, "Bombs Bursting in Air" is found to be quite a timely topic at the present time. Interest in keeping our own country out of the foreign wars has brought the book, "Neutrality for the United States," by Edwin Borchard and William P. Loge, up among the best sellers, this year.

"Inside Europe" by John Gunther and, "Not Peace But a Sword," by Vincent Sheean, are two more books dealing with the international situation. Both are recent writings.

One of the top ranking books that is really kept on the move at the library is, "Reaching for the Stars" by Nora Waln. This is reported as an "inside" of the conditions prevailing at the present time in Germany.

Library circulation on books of general reading has also increased during the past few months, it was learned today. Books, in many cases, tend to provide a release for many from the emotional stress brought about by war conditions, and this fact is undoubtedly one of the causes for the increased circulation.

Pennsylvania Has Huge Milk Bill

James W. Moorehead Sends In Application For Lawrence County

In a dispatch from Harrisburg regarding Pennsylvania relief milk bill it is stated that all counties except Lawrence have issued orders under the state's new plan to make certain each child under 16 in unemployed families is given a pint of milk daily.

It was learned today that there was a shortage of blanks upon which applications were made and James W. Moorehead of the local relief department, had not got his application in when the dispatch was sent from Harrisburg. It has been sent in now and Lawrence county will be included in the list.

Acording to the dispatch $22,000 is already $22,000 weekly. It will be higher after November 1 when the majority of 300,000 children of families on relief will be receiving milk orders.

Secretary of Public Assistance, Howard L. Russell, estimates that it will cost taxpayers $180,000 annually to distribute the orders in administrative expenses.

SAYS ALLERGY IS THE CAUSE OF REPEATED COLDS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK.—Allergy, the condition that makes hay fever sufferers explode at certain times of the year, is often the cause of repeated colds, bronchitis, inflamation of the sinus and other ailments of the nose, ears and throat, according to an article by Drs. George Pyness and Hyman Miller in the Journal of American Medical Association.

Allergy of the respiratory tract may go undiagnosed because the characteristic symptoms of hay fever or asthma are not present. Yet allergy alone may produce chronic obstruction of the nose without sneezing and repeated bouts of a running and stuffy nose having little to do with infection although often dubbed 'frequent colds or sinusitis," they write.

URGES FEDERATION OF ALL NATIONS TO UPHOLD PEACE

(International News Service)

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y.—The world can be saved from wars only by forming a federation of all nations, according to a recent address by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university.

He said that formation of such a federation would mean scrapping the doctrine of national sovereignty which he called unsound and dangerous because it leads to the use of force for the settlement of international disagreements.

"There is no reason," Dr. Butler declared, "why those states which are called totalitarian should not be included in such a federal union, provided they will cease striving to extend their areas and their control by force, and will accept, honestly and completely the principles upon which such a federal union is built."

No one can tell, he said, whether the present war can be checked before it undermines the foundations of our civilization.

Skunks Menace At Grove City

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Oct. 27.—To the normal perils of a policeman's job, local officers complain they must face another menace, skunks.

They're getting bolder day by day, or, rather, night by night. Officers on night duty, especially patrolling alleys, say they far outnumber the ordinary type of cat, and on one occasion, three skunks followed Officer McMurdy along a 200-yard alley.

But Officer Harrison had the prize experience. When he attempted to leave police headquarters late at night two large skunks disputed his passage. They paced back and forth, giving him dirty looks as he peered out of the window, and in everything but words dared him to come out.

Marine's 'Scarlet And Blue' Woven Into National Pattern

The familiar scarlet and blue of the U. S. Marine band's uniforms is woven brightly into the national pattern.

In addition to its frequent appearances at the White House, where it appears as "the president's own," it often has been called upon to play in the Hall of Congress on Sundays.

"Their glittering instruments and scarlet uniforms made a dazzling appearance," a newspaper account as early as February 10, 1804, described one such occasion.

In the War of 1812, the bandsmen temporarily laid aside their instruments to participate in the Battle of Bladensburg. They also assisted in saving the early records of the corps when the British burned the capitol.

Played For Egg-Rolling

The band played for the first egg-rolling on the White House grounds and for the first White House children's party, when Andrew Johnson was president.

Its outdoor concerts have featured the musical life of Washington for more than a century. Countless thousands have carried away memories of these concerts, played under the very dome of the capitol itself or on the grassy slopes leading to the Washington monument, as one of the most vivid experiences of their stay in the nation's capitol.

Paying its first 1939 call to a Pennsylvania city, the Marine band will perform twice in New Castle Monday, October 30 under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A Taggart stadium matinee concert, crowning feature of a high school band "musical festival" outdoors, and an evening concert in the Catredral are scheduled.

AROUND CITY HALL

There was referred in council meeting in city hall Thursday a request by Attorney Errol Fullerton, representative of the Lucy A. Patterson estate, that, council allow the payment of an original lien for paving amounting to $233.11, and back taxes, on the 20 percent payment plan. It appeared from Fullerton's statement that the Patterson estate, Lucy Patterson being deceased, holds a mortgage against a house and lot owned by Lorenzo Conti, 1101 South Jefferson street. The mortgage is for $1,300. The unpaid taxes amount to $392.46. The paving lien filed against the property now amounts to $413.91. However, the original lien was $233.11. A reasonable marketable price for the house would be $1,000, Fullerton said, hence his request to pay the original lien and the back taxes.

Council met in the city building, Thursday, and gave City Solicitor William D. Cobau authority to petition the Lawrence county court for viewers to assess the costs against abutting properties, the result of the city having built a sanitary sewer in First Street for which the materials cost the city $964.87.

During council session, in the city building, Thursday, solons appointed Nick Cubellis to serve 10 days as a temporary patrolman on the city police department. He has been helping to direct traffic and do plain-clothes duty at night.

This gathering will be for members of the Four County Library club, and the main business to be transacted will be the presentation of reports of the recently concluded regional library conference, held at Hershey, Pa.

Program of Day

Miss Alice Sterling, local librarian, today announced the complete program of the day, as follows:

Morning session 10 a. m. Mrs. H. L. Hazeltine, Emsworth, is chairman.

Address of welcome—William J. Caldwell, president of the board of trustees of the New Castle library.

Report of state library—Evelyn L. Matthews, Harrisburg.

Announcements—Miss Sterling.

Tour of library building will bring the morning session to a close.

Luncheon Event

In the afternoon a luncheon will be served the out-of-town guests at The Castleton hotel. Luncheon speakers will be Mariam Grosh of Geneva college library, who will speak on "Propaganda in the Library", and Caroline Lauman of the Sewickley public library. Miss Lauman will discuss pamphlets, public opinion and books in the news.

Miss Grosh's talk promises to be an interesting one as she tells of the problems of propaganda material in the college. A discussion period is scheduled to follow these talks, for the purpose of questioning the speakers and delving further into the propaganda subject as it affects the library.

The visiting librarians and library workers will be taken at three p. m. Thursday to the Shenango Pottery company, where an educational tour has been arranged. The afternoon session and the conference will end at the conclusion of the pottery trip at about 4:30 o'clock.

Members of the city police force are co-operating with the library to make sure that the guests are well cared for. Courtesy cards were provided by the police to be given to the out-of-town delegates, to permit them to park along a certain designated portion of North street during the sessions.

Ready For Silver Jubilee Observance On Sunday At Ward Church

DINNER TO END PROGRAM SUNDAY

In connection with the silver jubilee celebration marking the 25th anniversary of St. Margaret's church in the Seventh ward, a short history of the church and congregation was compiled this week by Rev. Fr. Michael Hinnebusch, along with the aid of several members.

It is learned from the story that the first Catholic services in Mahoningtown were held by Rev. J. P. Gallagher in a private house in Rabbit's Rest in 1884, and attendance was very infrequent for many of the members.

Father Gallagher gathered together his scattered mission flock for divine services on Sundays, meeting wherever he could, until the people finally felt the need of a permanent and resident pastor.

The first meeting to bring this about was held at the home of J. L. Agan, 15 Ashland avenue in 1904. It was at this meeting that the advisability of buying a lot at Cherry and Wabash avenue was agreed upon.

A later generous offer of William Smith, a non-Catholic banker, who offered the use of his property at Liberty and Clayton streets, was found more suiting for the needs of the church. The building on this lot was formerly used as a school house and was known as Updyke after an old schoolmaster of the district.

Rev. Charles Sullivan was appointed the first resident pastor in October, 1906. Rev. Sullivan made his home with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Agan. It was during this pastorate that the present location of the future church was decided upon and the lots purchased. In February, 1907, Rev. P. F. Quinn replaced Father Sullivan as pastor.

He purchased a residence at 312 West Madison avenue, that was the first pastoral residence of the parish. Father Quinn continued to look after the spiritual needs of the parish, which grew steadily sturdier until May, 1913 with the Rev. P. J. McKenna was sent to take charge.

With characteristic energy his first work was the raising of funds by subscription for the building of the church. This dream was realized when the cornerstone of the present building was laid on October 12, 1914.

Mrs. J. L. Agan donated the St. Joseph statue; Mrs. Susie Morrissey the sacred heart, and the St. Anthony statue by Mrs. Davis. Formal dedication took place in November, 1914. From the time of the dedication Father McKenna and his members bent themselves heartily to the task of raising funds to pay off the church debt.

Father McKenna continued his diligent labors in the congregation making himself a friend to all the people of Mahoningtown and New Castle, with whom he came in contact. In 1926 plans were made to build a new rectory on the property that the congregation held beside the church and a year later the present handsome residence was completed.

Two years later, in August, 1929, Father McKenna was directed to take charge of St. Mary's church here, and Rev. Joseph Keating was named to succeed him. Rev. Keating left the following May, 1930, and Rev. A. P. Scholz came to succeed him.

On August 28, 1938, Rev. Scholz was called by Bishop Boyle to take charge of St. Mary's church in Glenshaw, and the present pastor, Rev. M. P. Hinnebusch, was named as successor.

Many of the early members of the congregation who took active parts in the beginnings of St. Margaret's are still alive. First alter boys were Dr. P. M. McCann and Robert Agan. First baptisms were recorded on November 20, 1904, when three children were baptised, namely, Eugene Scanlon, Thomas L. Clancy and Elizabeth Hume. Edward Foley and Mary Brophy were the first couple married in the church in a ceremony on March 14, 1907.

The present church committee consists of the following: E. F. Scanlon, secretary; R. E. O'Donnell, E. R. Conway, A. F. Stritzinger, J. J Sullivan and George Boyle.

Stock Market Mixed And Quiet

Trend Of Morning Trading Is Slightly Lower, Report Shows

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The stock market turned mixed and quiet today. Price changes were generally small, with minus signs slightly in the majority.

Bethlehem Steel held fractionally under last night's close throughout the forenoon. U. S. Steel also eased, but most other steels gained a little ground.

A few stocks incurred losses of a point or more before meeting support. These included American Telephone, Continental Can and Douglas Aircraft.

Fractional declines were shown by General Motors and Chrysler in the motors; DuPont in the chemicals; Consolidated Edison and Public Service of N. J. in the utilities; and Phelps-Dodge in the coppers.

Among plus signs were Anaconda, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Texas Corp., Boeing, United Aircraft and Allied Chemical.

Election Boards Being Called In To Correct Errors

Failure To Number Voters Correctly In Primary Results In Extra Work

Two election boards, those at Wampum and Ellport, have been summoned to the Permanent Registration Bureau to correct errors made at the primary election.

According to Mrs. Edith Hileman, Acting Chief Clerk at the Registration Bureau, a number of these errors have been discovered following the primary election, and they will have to be corrected by the boards.

In the two above districts in particular, the errors were more pronounced than in others.

When a voter goes into the polls on election day to cast his ballot, he is handed a numbered ballot, and the ballots are given out in the order that the voters arrive at the polls. In the primary, there were ballots for those registered Republican and also those registered Democratic. The election boards in these districts failed to separate the Republicans from the Democrats. In Ellport Borough for instance, only 57 Republican votes were cast, but the number on the registry list turned in to the Permanent Registration Bureau shows Ballot No. 160 as having been issued to Republican Voter. Only 110 Republicans are registered in this district.

The same error was made in Wampum, where ballot No. 429 was shown as having been issued to a Republican, where only 299 Republicans were registered.

The work of correcting the error will take about a day, it is stated.

Appealing Line-up For Horse Show At Wampum, Saturday

Many horses that have been shown before in Lawrence county have been entered in the Ellwood City hospital benefit horse show which is to take place Saturday beginning at 1 p. m on the Pleasant Valley Farm a short distance from Wampum.

Manager Harold Marshall of Wampum said this morning that the show will proceed unless the weather is so bad that it is impossible. The weather report for tomorrow is "cloudy and colder." A few clouds a little drizzle or even a little shower won't stop the show. There will be 16 classes exhibited.

Forty-three Pennsylvania and Ohio horses are named in the list of entries.

See Support Of Gov. James

New Jersey And Delaware Likely To Support James For G. O. P. Nomination

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27.—Gov. Arthur H. James may obtain the support of the delegates of New Jersey and Delaware at the 1940 Republican national convention, in addition to those of his own state, it was reported in political circles today.

As the Pennsylvania delegation with approximately 75 votes will be the second largest at the convention, the accretion of New Jersey and Delaware would provide Governor James with a sizeable bloc of votes with which to maneuver for further support.

To these votes may be added those of several southern states where Col. Carl F. Estes of Texas, Governor James' campaign manager, has been busy attempting to line up delegates.

Indications were that an intensification of the drive for Governor James was now under way.

Although Governor James has denied he is a presidential candidate, at the same time he has indicated he would not refuse the nomination if tendered. Simultaneously, Colonel Estes has been openly active in lining up support for the governor.

W. E. Ferver Conducts Advancement Court On Thursday Evening

Many of the Boy Scouts scheduled to appear before the October Court of Honor, Thursday evening, just couldn't resist attending the football pep demonstration, and thus made the court quite small.

Life award was made to William Ferver; Star awards went to Kenneth Moss, Herbert Silverman and Fred Logan. Second class badge was presented to Bill Pasco.

Merit badges were awarded to the following: Robert Payne, cooking, camping and civics; Richard Flicker, physical development; Roger Hawk, masonry, carpentry and plumbing; Bill Ferver, physical development; Kenneth Moss, physical development, Robert Davies, life saving; William Moffatt, swimming, life saving and firemanship, and Faris Shoaff, pathfinding and civics.

Two Brothers In Pittsburgh Court Found Not Guilty

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 27.—Two brothers who disputed each other in open court as to which one had killed Albert Hein, 17, during the height of a family feud, today were both declared not guilty of murder.

Francis E. Coll, 19, and his brother James, 16, had both claimed to have wielded the knife which ended Hein's life in dramatic pleas to the jury.

The jury members said they reached a verdict last night, but it was not read in court until this morning.

Surprise and exclamations of relief swept through the partly filled courtroom.

The jury had been ordered to find one or the other of the youths guilty of murder, or to find neither of them guilty.

FEW GROVE CITY BOYS WILL FLY

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Oct. 27—Indicating that Grove City College students are not air-minded, only 12 boys have accepted the aeronautics course financed at the local school by the Federal Government. The course is available to 20 boys, but it is unlikely that the full quota will enroll.

The lack of applications is attributed to interference with existing schedules. The instruction was not made available until after classes had started, and many boys who would like to take the flying course cannot find the time. Parental objection was also encountered in a number of instances.

Lions Clubs Of Three Towns Dine

New Castle, Greenville And Meadville Clubs Gather At Latter City

NEW CASTLE LIONS SHARE PROGRAM

For fellowship and fellowship alone, New Castle's Lions club—joined by the Lions club of Greenville—motored in 16 cars to Meadville last night to dine and frolic with Meadville's Lions at Kepler hotel.

Fifty New Castle men and 20 Greenville men made the trip. Escorting the caravan were Corp. G. F. Keck and Private J. T. Docherty of the local sub-station of the Pennsylvania motor police.

President Frank Shuman of the Meadville club, the host group, extended greetings to the New Castle and Greenville men. For New Castle, President Roy F. Conway responded.

A humorous sketch was contributed to the program by four local Lions, Numa F. Vidal, Jr., Earl Williams, Dr. T. J. Fletcher and Cecil Potter. Earl J. Ramsey, former Lions district governor and New Castle member, spoke.

Sometime next spring the Meadville and Greenville clubs will travel to New Castle for a program which will boost the 1940 state convention of Lions at Oil City.

Arranging the caravan details for New Castle's club were the Lions' special program and activities committee. Assisting L. J. Brown, head of the group, were Dr. B. M. Rogers, Charles Pile, Joseph Leyde, J. W. Staudinger, Earl Williams, W. J. Stafford, Harding Thayer and Numa Vidal.

First Study Of Prophets Thursday

Rev. W. V. McLean of the First Methodist church presented a clear introduction for the study of the prophets, Thursday forenoon, at the first of a series of four Bible classes for women in the Y. W. C. A. Addressing an audience of 25, he said the word prophet does not have the modern meaning of one who foretells the future, so much as one who has insight which makes him able to be an interpreter of his time. A prophet combines both faith and reason, he stated. Next Thursday Rev. McLean will speak on the personalities of the prophets. The class will be from 10:30 to 11:30, for all women and girls.

NOT THE SCORE BUT THE TEAM

We are not football experts—we couldn't tell you the difference between a mouse trap play and the Minnesota shift—but we do know that New Castle is going into the Massillon game tonight with courage and resolve—the score is secondary to us—whether New Castle wins or loses the Red and Black are still our colors and New Castle is our team—in victory or defeat they will be sportsmen and that's what counts—in case you can't go to the game tonight—drop around to the grill room and get the scores—play the game over by remote control—and lest you forget—tomorrow night is the Saturday night party.

NEW CASTLE HIGH PLAYING AT MASSILLON TONIGHT

New Castle Hi Seeks Revenge

Over 1,000 From Here Will Attend Battle At Massillon's New Football Stadium

"RED HURRICANE" IN FINE SHAPE

A big "Red Hurricane" was blowing its way toward Massillon this afternoon, and a snarling Tiger was sharpening up its claws to fight this New Castle menace. Tonight at 8 o'clock at Massillon's new $300,000 football stadium two rivals will clash in what looms as the classiest schoolboy attraction on the Northern Ohio card for tonight.

New Castle High School is sending a team to the Ohio City tonight that is determined if possible to wipe out that 52 to 7 defeat of last year. This looks like a gargantuan task at the moment. The Tigers have waded through six teams so far, piled up 310 points and been scored upon but twice.

The local record is five wins and one defeat. A victory tonight will more than wipe out that Johnstown setback. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has been pointing his team for this important struggle for many weeks. He believes that he has them in perfect shape to stop the Massillon juggernaut.

Massillon Team Is Heaviest

The impression here that the Massillon team is big and heavy is knocked in the head by the weights that have been sent here on the Tigers. The line will average 168 against 162 for the locals, the backfield will average 157, against 158 for New Castle. The Massillon team average is 163 and New Castle is 160.

The heaviest man on the Massillon team is Gene Henderson, right guard, who goes 192. The lightest man is Tommy James a halfback who scales just 142 pounds. James is rated a shifty runner and hard to stop. New Castle will have an advantage in weight at the fullback spot, Lauro tipping the beam at 185 against 164 for Zimmerman and 162 for Clendenning if he starts in place of the injured Zimmerman.

New Castle it is indicated will be represented by over 1,000 persons at the game tonight. The Pennsy is running a special train at 5:05 o'clock and it will carry about 400. Several hundred will drive.

The team, 30 strong, left at 1:00 o'clock by bus for a small town outside of Massillon.

Massillon officials look for a crowd of over 17,000 for tonight if the weather stays nice.

NIGHT BASEBALL FOR NEW YORK CITY IN 1940 ASSURED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—Night baseball for New York's fans next season was assured Thursday when sources close to the top of the Giant's management admitted that a lightning plant to cost in excess of $100,000 will be installed before next season rolls around.

It is expected the Yanks will follow the lead of the Giants.

Both teams have been slightly envious of the manner in which the Brooklyn Dodgers have packed in fans for night games.

Sports World Ramblings

Grid Roundup: Like a punch drunk boxer who gets hammered around plenty but keeps bouncing up like a rubber ball, principally because he knows no better, that man's back again with his weekly pig pelt forecast. In case you're keeping books, our batting meter reads: 114 right, 24 wrong and 11 ties for a little better than 82%. . . .

Notre Dame's next step to the mythical coronet is a steep one guarded by Carnegie Tech. The Plaid's showing against Temple was excusable, an off day. Last Saturday's outcome convinced me that the Tartans are not what they were cracked up to be. It may be close, the lucky Irish getting the nod. . . .

Are the Panthers playing like they know how? I have a sneaking suspicion they are. With a much needed, rest, Fordham to spill Pitt, maybe convincingly. . . . Ohio State-Cornell looms as one of the toughest tests of the day. State's bone-crushing eleven figure to wear down Cornell. Ohio State is due for a letdown. Unless Schmidt's boys are way-off, the Big Ten team on top. . .

Penn's improving machine faces a good North Carolina edition. The Quakers are still a shade away from the Tar Heels. . . . New York U., inspired by their victory over Carnegie Tech, should not have too much trouble in trampling Georgia. . . . Columbia booked V. M. I. principally because the Lions figured on a breather. "Brother Rat" is tough. A hunch—V. M. I. . .

Navy took a terrific beating, mentally as well as physically, against the Irish. Clemson is a tough customer and draws the vote from this corner. . . . Holy Cross, clicking again, should sink Colgate. . . . Harvard has lost Captain MacDonald which makes it that much easier for Dartmouth. . . . Villanova-Arkansas should be close with Villanova on top. . . .

That shellacking Cornell gave Penn State really aroused the Monday morning quarterbacks. The Nittany Lion drubbed Syracuse last year, 33-6. State has shown much more than the Orange. The Lions to roar. . . . Princeton to pancake Brown. . . . Harvey Harmon's Rutgers team has too much for Lehigh. . . . Ursinus' coach has promised not to use his varsity against Army. The Kaydets to do as they please. . . .

Saturday should be a blue day for Yale's Blue. The Elis meet Michigan, nut said. . . . I think Lynn Waldorf has finally finished introducing his prima donnas to one another. The "Wildcats" should repel Illinois. . . . A flyer—Iowa to bowl over Wisconsin. . . . Purdue crosses the country to meet Santa Clara and figures to win after a tough scrap. . . .

Alabama is going to have another busy afternoon in its clash with Mississippi State. The Crimson Tide . . . Kentucky over Xavier. . . . Georgia Tech has a bit too much stuff for undermanned Auburn. . . . Tulane seems to be slipping a bit. For this reason, a wavering vote for Mississippi's undefeated and untied eleven. . . . If Tennessee doesn't whip Mercer, sue me. . . .

Temple a slight edge over Bucknell. . . . Marquette should beat Arizona. . . . Louisana State to spank Vanderbilt. . . . Wake Forest is a good little team; Duke is a good big team. . . . Ben Franklin junior high won a leg on the junior high grid championship for 1939 yesterday afternoon at Taggart stadium, trimming a hard fighting but outweighed Mahoning high team 20 to 13.

Mahoning after trailing for the first three periods 20 to 0, put on a rally, led by Red Nickum in the final period that put over two touchdowns.

Geno Paige, Franklin ace, on the second play of the game raced 45 yards for the first Franklin touchdown. A pass thrown by T. Joseph to DeAugustine gave the East Siders another touchdown in the first period. Two passes, T. Joseph to Zubkowsky scored extra-points after the touchdowns.

Rozzi, a sub halfback, raced 40 yards to score in the second period for Ben Franklin.

Red Nickum made both of the Mahoning touchdowns in the final period and also one of the conversions.

In first downs Franklin high led 12 to 6.

Demonstration By High Students At Stadium Success

Parade From Legion Home To Stadium Cheer Team Till Throats Are Sore

The demonstration by the New Castle High school student body last night kept New Castle awake a little longer than usual, it was midnight before some of the more lusty of the throats had yelled into a state of hoarseness. They must have heard the noise over in Massillon.

The parade started at the Legion Home at 8 o'clock led by the Croton School band and followed by the cheerleaders then the students. There most have been about 500 in the line of march.

At the stadium was a crowd of over 3,000. The bonfire feature almost fizled out, when in the afternoon, some of the Ben Franklin High students after their team had beaten Mahoningtown started the fire going. It was up to the New Castle boys and girls to gather more wood for the fire.

Mayor Charles McGrath was on hand, so was Principal Orth. Coach Bridenbaugh and others, but no speeches were made due to the fact that the boys and girls wouldn't let any speeches be made. All they wanted to do was yell and they did a lot of that believe you me.

A fine pep chapel was held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Senior High with the students cheering lustily for the team of "Red Hurricane" players.

Intersectional Games Will Feature Saturday

Notre Dame Will Play Carnegie Tech At Pittsburgh In One Of Day's Big Games

Michigan Will Clash With Yale, Penn Will Take On North Carolina

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The growing tendency to clutter up the football schedule with intersectional games will result in a bumper crop of battles between teams from widely separated sectors on Saturday. Moreover, sprinkled through the program will be engagements involving some of the few remaining teams with clean records, and perpetration of more widespread grief due to the defeat of favorites seems almost inevitable, although there can scarcely be any such form upheaval as the one of last week. In fact another Saturday like that would leave only the river to provide solace for some of our better football practitioners.

Cornell-Ohio State

The undefeated elevens of Cornell and Ohio State will stage the day's major attraction in the mid-west, but close to that one in that vicinity and also of intersectional prominence will be unbeaten Michigan's clash with Yale, while in the east Penn will match its clean slate against North Carolina, which is unbeaten but suffered a tie against Tulane.

Notre Dame, which may be the best team in the country, will know more about that after tangling up with once beaten Carnegie Tech in an east-west encounter. In a game tonight, Duquesne, not only unbeaten and untied, but also humbler of mighty Pitt, as it is known, will oppose Texas Tech.

That winds up the major intersectional games, but doesn't account for all of them of top ranking, nor does it include all the battles in which the major elevens with clean slates will go to war.

Many Fine Games

Others of more than passing interest in the intersectional classification include New York university-Georgia, Columbia-V. M. I., Villa Nova-Arkansas, Marquette-Arizona, Western Maryland-Boston U., Tulsa-Detroit, Santa Clara-Purdue, and Kentucky-Xavier, the latter being both intersectional and a workout for a team with a clean slate, the same being Kentucky.

Other unbeaten elevens which will go into action include Texas A. and M. against Baylor, the former being unwhipped so far; undefeated Mississippi against once tied Tulane; terrific Tennessee against little Mercer, and Oregon State, with an unsullied record and an eye on the coast conference championship, against Washington State.

Do you want ALL-WINTER RADIATOR PROTECTION FOR ONLY $1.50?

HERE'S the way many car owners do it every year! They put in a couple of quarts of Du Pont "Zerone" early in the season for protection against rusting and sudden cold snaps.

When it gets really cold, they add enough "Zerone" for lower temperatures. A total of six quarts, put in as needed, can protect a car with an average size cooling system (15 quarts) for the entire winter. And six quarts of "Zerone" cost only $1.50!

Your car may need a little more or less, depending on radiator capacity and the severity of winter. But "Zerone" will save you real money. "Zerone" prevents rust and corrosion, gives better dissipation of engine heat, avoids power losses. Put some in today! Remember, it's only $1.00 a gallon, 25¢ a quart.

Score Is 13 To 0 In Junior High Grid Game At Washington High Field Thursday

LEE AND DAVIS STARS OF BATTLE

Washington Junior high, outweighed, but not outfought, took a 13 to 0 victory over the Sharon Junior high boys yesterday at the Washington high field, with Robert "General" Lee and Jim Davis, the stars of the battle.

Lee scored for the North Hillers in the first period after carrying the ball down the field on several nice 10-yard runs. In the third period Lee passed to Davis, a 25-yarder, and Davis had to drag two Sharon men over the goal line with him. Jesse Gunn made the extra-point by placement. In the third period also the Washington boys fumbled the ball over the goal line, for a touchback.

Line Plays Well

The Washington high line opened many nice holes and charged hard. Costa and Probst were the line standouts. Probst did nice tackling and blocking. He also intercepted a pass thrown by Sharon.

Washington made more ground than the score would indicate. The field was rather muddy. In first downs Wash High led 8 to 1. The best bets for Sharon were Mouses and Patterson in the backfield, and Shorts and Toth on the line.

The summary:

Bessemer Drubs McDonald Eleven

Cement City Steam Roller Crushes Ohioans, 34-0, Thursday

PELTO IS STAR FOR LOCAL TEAM

Unleashing one of the most powerful offensive attacks ever seen in McDonald, Ohio, a smooth functioning Bessemer high eleven crushed McDonald high, 34-0, Thursday afternoon.

Shortly later, Bessemer drove the ball deep into McDonald territory as a result of substantial gains by their pile-driving backs. Kennedy stepped back and whipped a pass to Pelto for the second touchdown. The play covered 20 yards.

Bessemer moved again into McDonald territory in the second. S. Skuta dashed 20 yards to the Ohioans' 10 and then lateralled to Pelto who dashed into pay dirt. A 10-yard reverse by Kennedy gave Bessemer its fourth touchdown in the third period. S. Skuta plunged a short distance for the final score. S. Skuta annexed four out of five extra points via placement.

Next Friday afternoon, Bessemer meets Shenango.

Pennsylvania Game commission and timber owners today owe a vote of thanks to the rain-maker. Pete Askounes, the connoisseur of mat men, may take another whirl with them here this winter. However, last night Sir Peter compared boxers and wrestlers as "eating men." He said that heavyweight fighters, some times consume two steaks, but wrestlers, ahem! He said that one of them, who wrestled here, was Askounes' guest after a bout one night. The wrestler only ate three steaks, four plates of home fried potatoes, a dozen rolls, a couple orders of tomatoes and drunk four bottles of milk. When asked what he would have for dessert the mat man replied: "I'll take another steak." Askounes fainted.

Money To Loan

Can you set aside

$1.59 to $1.65 per week for a $100 LOAN

That's actually all you need to pay off in full a $100 cash loan including all charges on a 18 month plan at Personal Finance Co. And we take no wage assignment.

● $1.59 a week on the average is all you need to set aside for every $100 borrowed on Personal's new "Special" loan plan of only 2½% per month on the first $100 and 2% per month on balances over $100. This plan is for persons with a steady income or salary sufficient to meet payments promptly, and a good credit record.

○ For persons without established credit and employment ratings, or who wish to carry a loan larger than 8 to 12% of annual salary or income, Personal offers its "Regular" loan at 3% monthly on unpaid balances of 100 and less, and 2% monthly on unpaid balances over $100. Under this plan, setting aside just $1.65 a week will repay everything on a $100 loan in 18 months. Loans from $20 to $300.

WHY IS A CLASSIFIED AD LIKE A BRIDGE?

Because it is the connecting link between buyer and seller just as a bridge is the connecting link between opposite sides of a river. It is the least expensive way of finding a market for goods and service, and a way certain to give results. Try a Classified Ad.

Ellwood High Plays Aliquippa Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 27—Determined to continue their wholesale defeat of Beaver Valley teams to advance themselves another notch higher in the county championship race, the Ellwood high school Wolverines journey to Aliquippa tonight where they will face one of their most formidable foes in a night game, slated to begin at 8:00 p. m.

Jubilant because of their upset victory over Midland last Saturday, the Croft-Gills machine, not anxious to see that spectacular feat marred by defeats by lesser teams, are ready to display the same fight and drive against the Lippe men.

Aliquippa hasn't had a too successful season, droping games to Ambridge, Midland and Erie Academy, but in these defeats they have lost to teams considered the strongest in the district.

Last year Ellwood defeated the lower valley outfit by a 13-0 score at Lincoln field and this year will face no less than eight of the lineup that started against Ellwood last year, including Barr at fullback; Gnup, left end. Carmandi and Argirakis, tackles; essay and Davis, guards and Clark, left end. Klarich has been succeeded at center by Brounnough. Yench at right end by Delenk and Stamm at quarterback by Fuderich. They have in addition a number of reserve linemen. As usual, this will be the bigbest team to be faced by the light Ellwood crew

The Ellwood lads have been beset with colds this week but most of them are expected to be ready to take part in tonight's hostilities. No changes are planned in the lineup with the exception of Mazzant at fullback in place of Murphy, who has been unable to practice on account of a cold. All of the other players have recovered from minor injuries sustained in the Midland contest.

The team will leave by bus at 6 o'clock.

Ellwood officials have announced that next week's clash with New Brighton at Reeves stadium has been advanced from Friday afternoon to Thursday night, subject to weather conditions.

Pittsburgh Firm Buys Wayne Bonds

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 27.—At a special meeting of the Wayne township school board on Wednesday evening bonds to the amount of $13,500 were sold to the F. K. Cunningham company of Pittsburgh. The bonds were sold at par plus accrued interest.

PHILATHEA CLASS GATHERS AT CHURCH

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 27.—Sixteen members of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church assembled last evening in the Ladies' parlor for a social meeting.

The hours were spent informally with a dainty lunch being served by Mrs. Clyde Burns and Mrs. S. D. Johnston. They will meet again in one month.

ANTELOPES ARE SPEEDY

Antelopes are reliably credited with speeds up to 32 miles an hour over distances of a mile or more. The swiftest race horse is only a bit faster. The alarm signal of the antelope is a whistling snort, but doubtless his scent glands play an important part in warning of danger, says the American Wildlife Institute.
